Thanks to everyone who volunteered, attended, kibitzed or participated in any way this summer. Programming was thrilled to bring you another action packed season of fun and learning. Can't wait to see you all again next summer and if you get a hankering to join programming ... we are actively hoping for new members to join this fun committee. Please don't hesitate to pass along any thoughts, compliments ;) or ideas for next season. Your Programming Committee '19 - Nicole Bennett, Jenny Lewis, Paula David, Abbie Bakan, Barbara Lipton, Shlomit Segal, Ann Pohl

Jenny Lewis Reports from the Bonfire

A special thank you to Steve Cope and David Chudnovsky who graciously agreed to play for the Bonfire sing-a-long. Camp Naivelt song books were used and it was a truly lovely evening. Ross McKie helmed the fire and did a marvellous job — managing with wet wood and spirited children eager to help. Delicious Sh'mores (the Yiddish version — lol) were made and improved with the tip from Ali and Sarah (new UJPO members who rented this past week) to let the chocolate melt onto the graham cracker near the fire as you roast your marshmallow — invaluable new knowledge. Thank you to everyone who made this small gathering so delightful!

Bungalow Holder (with apologies to Bob Marley)

Oy oy oy..... X2
I'm just a bungalow holder
In a shack in Brampton
Fighting for peace and justice
In a shack in Brampton
Oy oy oy.....
Hills 1-2-3, 1-2-3, 1-2-3, hills 1-2-3.
Pumping sewage,
Toilets overflowing
Call Hank and Wank
Soon you'll be a going.
Oy oy oy.....
Fighting for survival
Fighting about everything
Fleeing strife in the shitty
For potlucks in the country
Paying our dues,
With rainbow hues.

Oy oy oy
(bridge)
If you know (if you know) your history,
Then you will know where we're coming from.
Then you wouldn't have to ask me
What the hell the UJPO (oojpo) is.
I'm just a bungalow holder
In a shack in Brampton.
Fighting for peace and justice
In a shtetl in Brampton.
Oy oy oy..... X 2

Revised lyrics by Rachel Epstein, Amy Gottlieb and Stephen Cope, first performed July 1/2001 to kick off the Bungalow Holders meeting.
